Dear Friends,

I think you will all agree that, regardless of any perceived differences among us, each of us has a duty and a responsibility to care for the most vulnerable in our community. Providing nourishment to food insecure children, seniors, and families is at the heart of the Virginia Peninsula Foodbank’s mission. We work hard to fill tables and improve lives every day. Unfortunately, the need for our services has not diminished; for that reason, we must strive to find innovative ways to fulfill our mission. Food insecurity remains a challenge for many here on the Peninsula. We had one of the highest rates of food insecurity in Virginia last year with 13.8% of our residents facing hunger and a lack of access to adequate food and nutrition. A significant need always demands a significant response.

Hunger relief is most successful when we collaborate through a shared passion for service. During fiscal year 2016, we placed an even greater focus on providing nutritious food. Research tells us that food insecurity and poor health are related, so we continue to work to bring nutritious food access to food deserts, low income senior living facilities, and other vulnerable populations through our mobile pantry program. This expanded program provided the equivalent of almost a million meals to those communities—including an abundance of fresh produce! Your support of our mission is invaluable, and we are incredibly grateful for your donations of food, funds, time, and advocacy as we work to provide this nutritious food to our hungry neighbors across the greater Peninsula.

As you flip through the pages of this gratitude report, you will read about and see pictures of some of the other programs that Virginia Peninsula Foodbank has established to provide food and hope to our community. You will also see the individuals, corporations, organizations, and faith communities that brought food, funds, and other support to our mission. Every can or dollar donated brings us one step closer to closing the hunger and nutrition gap in our community. Thank you for your support of the Virginia Peninsula Foodbank and your help to fulfill our important mission! Together, we are providing not only nourishment, but a sense of comfort and hope.

With appreciation,

Karen L. Joyner

Virginia Peninsula Foodbank Gratitude Report
MISSION
The mission of the Virginia Peninsula Foodbank is to distribute food effectively through collaborative efforts that minimize hunger, promote nutrition and encourage self-reliance through education.

VISION
To inspire hope by leading the effort for a hunger-free and properly nourished community.

SERVICE AREA
The Foodbank distributes to the following cities and counties: Hampton, Newport News, Gloucester, Mathews, Williamsburg, Poquoson, Surry, James City, and York.
Many thanks to all those listed here and to everyone whose support helps us to provide food to people in need. Because of you, we are making a difference in the lives of others.

PARTNER AGENCIES

Distributing 11.7 million pounds of food wouldn’t be possible without the dedication of nearly 175 community partners, also referred to as Foodbank Partner Agencies. Successful collaborations with schools, faith-based organizations, food pantries, shelters, and community centers has, and always will be, the key to accomplishing our mission.

THE IMPORTANCE OF VOLUNTEERS

Our volunteers are consistent and energized. They provide us with much needed support. It seems our volunteers are always at the ready, both in the warehouse and off-site. They often teach us new ways to perform standard tasks, perhaps more efficiently.

This is a gentle reminder to us of just how important volunteers are. This year over 6,700 volunteers provided more than 27,000 hours of their time and talent. They make our work possible. Food gets sorted, shelves get restocked, bags get packed, orders are filled, cardboard is recycled. So when we say “we love our volunteers!”, it is truly an expression from the heart.

Your support makes a world of difference.

Thank you!
